The Rutgers University–Camden Class of 2019 graduates are poised to make a positive, meaningful impact on the world; in fact, they already have. Rutgers-Camden graduates have benefited from the innovative curriculum and rigorous experiential learning opportunities that they received on and off campus, and they leave with a depth of knowledge that's informed not just by lectures and textbooks but by real-world situations with real-world results. They graduate ready to turn their robust, hands-on experiences into both employment and further academic scholarship. Whether in corporate, not-for-profit, or government industries, the head start they got here at Rutgers–Camden will last throughout their careers.
